When each human life is valued, there is greater peace in the world. All actions by international, national, and local governments, and their various health and education agencies, should be centered on a recognition and respect for the dignity of all human life -- before as well as after birth.

Language which generally refers to the protection of human life

"inherent dignity of all human beings"

"dignity and worth of the human person"

"prenatal care"

"postnatal care"

"right to life"

Language which could be interpreted to include abortion

"reproductive health services"
"sexual and reproductive health rights"

"primary health care" (e.g. Cairo +5, 57-d: "in the context of primary health care, ensuring the availability of and access to reproductive health services")

"terminating an unwanted pregnancy" (e.g. Beijing footnote 16: "unsafe abortion" identified as a procedure for terminating an unwanted pregnancy)

"safe motherhood" (compare ICPD footnote 21 and Beijing footnote 16: "safe motherhood’ includes the reduction of maternal mortality and morbidity with ICPD, 8.26: "reproductive health services” should be used to reduce maternal morbidity and mortality)

"regulation of fertility" (e.g. Beijing 94: "reproductive health” includes "methods of family planning of their choice, as well as other methods of their choice for regulation of fertility which are not against the law." The methods "other" than family planning could include abortion.)

"emergency obstetric care" (e.g. Beijing 97: "effective family planning methods and emergency obstetric care")

"prenatal sex selection" (see ICPD 4.15)

Language, including modifying words, which could be interpreted to exclude abortion

"in no case should abortion be promoted as a method of family planning"

"enable women to go safely through pregnancy and childbirth"

"provide couples with the best chance of having a healthy infant"

"with respect for cultural, religious and social aspects, in keeping with freedom, dignity and personally held values and taking into account ethical and cultural considerations"

"fully respects various religions, ethical values and cultural backgrounds"

"respecting their cultural values and religious beliefs"
Language which respects the right of individual nations to make decisions regarding abortion

"determined at the national or local level according to the national legislative process" (e.g. Cairo +5: 63-1 and Beijing +5: 72-o)

Abortion

"To address adolescent sexual and reproductive health issues, including unwanted pregnancy, unsafe abortion and sexually transmitted diseases, including HIV/AIDS . . ." ICPD, 7.44-a

"At present, approximately 90 per cent of the countries of the world, representing 96 per cent of the world population, have policies that permit abortion under varying legal conditions to save the life of a woman . . ." ICPD, 8.19

"Methods of their choice for regulation of fertility which are not against the law, and the right of access to appropriate health-care services that will enable women to go safely through pregnancy and childbirth and provide couples with the best chance of having a healthy infant . . ." Beijing, 97
Unsafe abortion is defined as a procedure for terminating an unwanted pregnancy either by persons lacking the necessary skills or in an environment lacking the minimal medical standards or both (based on World Health Organization Report of a Technical Working Group, Geneva, April 1992 (WHO/MSM/92.5)).

"Any measures or changes related to abortion within the health system can only be determined at the national or local level according to the national legislative process…"

Abortion as a means of genocide

"For the purpose of this Statute, 'genocide' means any of the following acts committed with intent to destroy, in whole or in part, a national, ethnical, racial or religious group, as such: Imposing measures intended to prevent births within the group . . ."

Abortion of females

"Since in all societies discrimination on the basis of sex often starts at the earliest stages of life . . . [t]his is often compounded by the increasing use of technologies to determine foetal sex, resulting in abortion of female foetuses. Investments made in the girl child's health, nutrition and education, from infancy through adolescence, are critical."

"To eliminate all forms of discrimination against the girl child and the root causes of son preference, which results in harmful and unethical practices regarding female infanticide and prenatal sex selection . . ."

"Governments are urged to take the necessary measures to prevent infanticide, prenatal sex selection, trafficking in girl children and use of girls in prostitution and pornography."

"Acts of violence against women also include forced sterilization and forced abortion, coercive/forced use of contraceptives, female infanticide and prenatal sex selection."

"Enact and enforce legislation against the perpetrators of practices and acts of violence against women, such as female genital mutilation, female infanticide, prenatal sex selection and dowryrelated violence . . ."
Unsafe Abortion?

Opposition to "unsafe abortion" is often used as a catalyst to promote "safe" abortion. However, no abortion is "safe" for the unborn child. The following paragraphs, in both ICPD and Beijing documents, provides a definition for "unsafe abortion."

20/ Unsafe abortion is defined as a procedure for terminating an unwanted pregnancy either by persons lacking the necessary skills or in an environment lacking the minimal medical standards or both (based on World Health Organization, The Prevention and Management of Unsafe Abortion, Report of a Technical Working Group, Geneva, April 1992 (WHO/MSM/92.5)). ICPD, footnote 20

16/ Unsafe abortion is defined as a procedure for terminating an unwanted pregnancy either by persons lacking the necessary skills or in an environment lacking the minimal medical standards or both (based on World Health Organization Report of a Technical Working Group, Geneva, April 1992 (WHO/MSM/92.5)). Beijing footnote 16

"To address adolescent sexual and reproductive health issues, including unwanted pregnancy, unsafe abortion 20/ and sexually transmitted diseases, including HIV/AIDS, through the promotion of responsible and healthy reproductive and sexual behaviour, including voluntary abstinence and the provision of appropriate services and counselling specifically suitable for that age group;" ICPD, 7.44(a)

"...On the basis of a commitment to women's health and well-being, to reduce greatly the number of deaths and morbidity from unsafe abortion," ICPD, 8.20

"...deal with the health impact of unsafe abortion as a major public health concern and to reduce the recourse to abortion through expanded and improved family-planning services..." ICPD 8.25

"...the health impact of unsafe abortion and the need to reduce the recourse to abortion have not been fully implemented..." Beijing +5, 12

Safe motherhood and abortion (these paragraphs show that "safe motherhood" can be considered to include abortion)

"within the framework of primary health care, extend integrated reproductive health-care and child-health services, [including safe motherhood, /21] child-survival programmes and family-planning services" ICPD, 8.17

"To promote women's health and safe motherhood; to achieve a rapid and substantial reduction in maternal morbidity and mortality and reduce the differences observed between developing and developed countries and within countries. On the basis of a commitment to women's health and well-being, to reduce greatly the number of deaths and morbidity from unsafe abortion . . . . " ICPD, 8.20-a
"All countries, with the support of all sections of the international community, must expand the provision of maternal health services in the context of primary health care. These services, based on the concept of informed choice, should include education on safe motherhood, prenatal care that is focused and effective, maternal nutrition programmes, adequate delivery assistance that avoids excessive recourse to caesarean sections and provides for obstetric emergencies; referral services for pregnancy, childbirth and abortion complications; post-natal care and family planning. All births should be assisted by trained persons, preferably nurses and midwives, but at least by trained birth attendants. The underlying causes of maternal morbidity and mortality should be identified, and attention should be given to the development of strategies to overcome them and for adequate evaluation and monitoring mechanisms to assess the progress being made in reducing maternal mortality and morbidity and to enhance the effectiveness of ongoing programmes. Programmes and education to engage men’s support for maternal health and safe motherhood should be developed." ICPD, 8.22

[See following paragraph which combines "reproductive health services" as part of reducing maternal morbidity and mortality. The words "reproductive health services" are commonly used to refer to abortion in UN documents.]

"Programmes to reduce maternal morbidity and mortality should include information and reproductive health services, including family-planning services. In order to reduce high-risk pregnancies, maternal health and safe motherhood programmes should include counselling and family-planning information." ICPD, 8.26

"Safe motherhood aims at attaining optimal maternal and newborn health. It implies reduction of maternal mortality and morbidity and enhancement of the health of newborn infants through equitable access to primary health care, including family planning, prenatal, delivery and post-natal care for the mother and infant, and access to essential obstetric and neonatal care [World Health Organization, Health Population and Development, WHO Position Paper, Geneva, 1994 (WHO/FHE/94.1)]." Beijing, footnote 16; ICPD, footnote 21

"Information, education and communication efforts should raise awareness through public education campaigns on such priority issues as: safe motherhood, reproductive health and rights, maternal and child health and family planning, discrimination against and valorization of the girl child and persons with disabilities; child abuse; violence against women; male responsibility; gender equality; sexually transmitted diseases, including HIV/AIDS; responsible sexual behaviour; teenage pregnancy; racism and xenophobia; ageing populations; and unsustainable consumption and production patterns ..." ICPD, 11.16

"Promoting cooperation ... to develop a comprehensive national strategy for improving reproductive health care and child health-care services and ensuring that people living in poverty have full access to those services, including, inter alia, education and services on family planning, safe motherhood and prenatal and postnatal care ..." Social Summit, 37-e
"Ensure that the reduction of maternal morbidity and mortality is a health sector priority and that women have ready access to essential obstetric care, well-equipped and adequately staffed maternal health-care services, skilled attendants at delivery, emergency obstetric care, effective referral and transport to higher levels of care, when necessary, post-partum care and family planning, in order to, inter alia, promote safe motherhood, and give priority attention to measures to prevent, detect and treat breast, cervical and ovarian cancer and osteoporosis, and sexually transmitted infections, including HIV/AIDS." Social Summit +5, 85; Beijing +5, 72-b

"By 2030, reduce the global maternal mortality ratio to less than 70 per 100,000 live births" 2030 Agenda, target 3.1

Female Infanticide

"Effective measures are required against female infanticide, harmful child labour, sale of children and organs, child prostitution, child pronography, as well as other forms of sexual abuse." Vienna, 48

"To eliminate all forms of discrimination against the girl child and the root causes of son preference, which results in harmful and unethical practices regarding female infanticide and prenatal sex selection," ICPD, 4.16-a

"...emphasize the elimination of harmful attitudes and practices, including female genital mutilation, son preference (which results in female infanticide and prenatal sex selection)...." Beijing, 107-a

"increase...protective and preventive measures aimed at the elimination of violence against women and girls, especially all forms of commercial sexual exploitation, as well as economic exploitation, including inter alia, trafficking in women and children, female infanticide, crimes committed in the name of honour, crimes committed in the name of passion..." Beijing +5, 96-a
